Accessibility Services

Making information accessible to everyone

Digital accessibility involves making online information and services available and easy to understand for all people, including those with visual, hearing, motor or cognitive disabilities.

Make sure that your documents, websites and events are easily accessible and relevant to all users.

Accessibility requirements are regulated by Law no. 232/2022, which transposes the European Accessibility Act (EAA) – Directive (EU) 2019/882.

The internationally recognised WCAG (Web Content Accessibility Guidelines) technical standards are used for implementation.

Digital Accessibility

Web/App Accessibility Audit

We analyse your website or app to identify any barriers that may affect navigation for users with disabilities.
You'll get a detailed report, listing the problems found and concrete solutions to fix them, in accordance with WCAG and EAA standards.

Web Accessibility Widget

A module that integrates seamlessly with the website and provides useful features that help improve the user experience and ensure a minimum level of compliance with international digital accessibility requirements.

Documents made accessible to all

Document Remediation

We transform your files into fully accessible documents for people with disabilities, complying with international PDF/UA standards.
We ensure compatibility with screen readers and other assistive technologies.

Documents adapted, using easy-to-read or simplified language

We adapt the contents of websites, documentation, forms or internal communications, so that information is easy to understand for everyone, including people with learning or language processing difficulties.

Alt Text for Images

We write alternative text to describe all images in your documents, so that the visual information is accessible to people using screen readers.

Sign Language Interpretation

Make your events accessible, online or onsite

For most people with hearing impairments, sign language is their mother tongue and their main connection to society.

We provide sign language interpretation in contexts such as medical visits, events, meetings or administrative interactions.

An Inclusive Workplace

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) Courses

We structure training programmes into flexible modules, complemented by interactive workshops, tailored to each organisation's objectives: raising awareness of inclusion, correcting potentially exclusionary behaviours, and supporting mindset change.

Each team acquires the right tools to build a more open, respectful and inclusive workplace.

Physical Accessibility Auditing

We assess the accessibility of office spaces, buildings and common areas for people with disabilities, in accordance with legal requirements and international standards.

We identify barriers and propose concrete solutions to adapt infrastructure.

Why accessibility matters?

Wider audience

Companies with accessible digital experiences grow their user base by up to 15%.

Customer retention

A better browsing experience means that customer retention can increase by up to 10%.

Improved SEO

Accessibility requirements overlap with SEO best practices and can bring +12% organic traffic.

Lower legal risks

Adopt accessibility regulations early and avoid legal pressures.

Increased eligibility

Companies with accessible services and documents are favoured in public projects, partnerships or funding.

Consolidated reputation

An inclusive brand inspires trust and attracts more referrals and reviews.
